Understanding
Stealth
Syndromes

The LDN Research Trust is excited to announce a global initiative to host in-person screening events of the documentary Understanding Stealth Syndromes in collaboration with clinics, LDN providers, and pharmacies.

We aim to raise awareness and connect individuals suffering from undiagnosed conditions with knowledgeable local providers and pharmacies. Many of the treatment protocols involve compounded medicines.

Event Details:

- Date: 27th February 2025

- Time: Flexible; you can choose a time that suits your location throughout 24 hours in UK time.

How to Host an Event:

You can organize a screening event in your area for any number of attendees.

Pricing:

- License Fee: $100 per license, accommodating 1 to 50 attendees. Multiple licenses can be purchased as needed.

- Additional Screenings: Further sessions can be scheduled after February 27th.

Admission:

You determine the admission price. Some hosts may charge a small fee, while others might offer a free event with refreshments based on personal preference.

Viewing the Film:

The film will be available on our Vimeo Channel. You can screen it using a projector or a large TV.

Support:

We recommend checking all equipment at least 2 hours beforehand to ensure a smooth event. A downloadable instruction guide will be provided to assist with the setup.

Marketing and PR:

All events will be listed on our events page and marked as "Sold Out" once capacity is reached. We are partnering with an external PR company and will collaborate with each host to create a tailored marketing strategy. Efforts will be made to invite media representatives to cover the events.

Understanding Stealth Syndromes

The Documentary

Imagine living with a complex and debilitating syndrome that affects nearly every part of your body. You appear to be a hypochondriac because your condition is invisible, and almost no one has heard of it. Now, imagine having three such syndromes that exacerbate one another.

This film aims to demystify three interconnected syndromes that are common and treatable, yet often remain devastating due to a lack of recognition. It will explain the underlying root causes, why most doctors miss these conditions, effective treatments available, and the ironic repercussions faced by physicians who treat these complex issues.

The Triad of Conditions

The film will explore the following interconnected chronic conditions:

1. Mast Cell Activation Syndrome (MCAS)
2. Dysautonomia
3. Hypermobility Syndromes

In Summary

We will illustrate how these conditions are interconnected and the complexities involved. There is much more to uncover, and we hope you'll consider supporting our film to help educate the world about these patients. They are not imagining their struggles; they face real issues with real, effective treatments available. Increasing awareness and providing proper treatment can alleviate so much suffering.
